Technical Projects

The Coding Kiwi

GitHub

Coding Dojo's Learn platform inspired site, incorporating full-stack web development built with Flask, Python, and MySQL.

- Login and Registration feature with validations utilizing Bcrypt's password hashing to secure sensitive user information.
- Integrated Dad Joke's API for better user experience and comic relief.
- Designed UI with CSS, JavaScript, and Bootstrap for engaging user experience

TripShare

GitHub

Inspired by Airbnb, a website for trip planning between friends and acquaintances built using Java and the Spring Framework.

- Login and Registration with validations using Bcrypt.
- Full CRUD; create, update, delete trips created by the logged in user.
- Add and Delete friends from friends list and attendee list for each trip.

Coding Dojo Clone

GitHub

A clone application duplicating the learning platform for the Coding Dojo bootcamp. It incorporates full-stack web development using MERN (MongoDB, Express, React.js, and Node.js).

- Implemented object-oriented design with mongoose to create and store stack information in MongoDB and employed RESTful backend routing with express server.
- Created dark mode and light mode features using JavaScript and CSS.
